DETAILED ACTION

Response to Amendment

Claim Rejections - 35 USC § 102

The following is a quotation of the appropriate paragraphs of 35 U.S.C. 102 that form the basis for the rejections under this section made in this Office action:

A person shall be entitled to a patent unless -

(a) the invention was known or used by others in this country, or patented or described in a printed publication in this or a foreign country, before the invention thereof by the applicant for a patent.

Claims 1-12 and 14 are rejected under 35 U.S.C. 102(a) as being anticipated by Yamamoto (WO 03/039644). Yamamoto discloses a liquid injector for causing a syringe (1000) to suck a liquid from a liquid tank (2000) and inject the liquid into a patient, the syringe having a cylinder member and a piston member (1002) inserted slidably into the cylinder member comprising a patient tube (3010) having a leading end connected to a patient; a syringe tube (3001) connected to the syringe, a tank tube (3004) having a trailing end connected to the liquid tank, a tube connecting means (not numbered) for connecting a trailing end of the patient tube, a leading end of the syringe tube, and a leading end of the tank tube, a syringe drive mechanism for relatively moving the cylinder member and the piston member to cause the syringe to suck and inject fluid, a connection switch mechanism (101,102) for switching between a suck state in which the patient tube is blocked and the syringe tube is connected to the tank tube and an injection state in which the tank tube is blocked and the syringe tube is connected to the patient tube, an interlock control means for interlocking operation of the syringe drive mechanism and operation of the connection switch mechanism and an attachment tube

Art Unit: 3763

(3008) connected to the patient tube, and an attachment block mechanism (103) for pressing and blocking the attachment tube to freely open or close the attachment tube, wherein the control means causes the attachment block mechanism to release the blocking only when the patient tube is blocked (Figure 13), wherein the connection switch mechanism can include a switching valve as is well-known in the art, wherein the connection switch mechanism has an injection block mechanism (103) and a suck block mechanism (101), wherein the connection switch mechanism also has an open or close mechanism (222,218) for interlocking open and close operation of the injection block mechanism, wherein the interlock control means causes the injection block mechanism to block the patient tube when the injection is completed, and further comprising an injection block sensor and a suck block sensor.

Response to Arguments

Applicant's arguments filed 12/22/2006 have been fully considered but they are not persuasive.

Applicant cannot rely upon the foreign priority papers to overcome this rejection because a translation of said papers has not been made of record in accordance with 37 CFR 1.55. See MPEP § 201.15.

Conclusion

THIS ACTION IS MADE FINAL. Applicant is reminded of the extension of time policy as set forth in 37 CFR 1.136(a).

A shortened statutory period for reply to this final action is set to expire THREE MONTHS from the mailing date of this action. In the event a first reply is filed within

Application/Control Number: 10/523,739

Art Unit: 3763

TWO MONTHS of the mailing date of this final action and the advisory action is not mailed until after the end of the THREE-MONTH shortened statutory period, then the shortened statutory period will expire on the date the advisory action is mailed, and any extension fee pursuant to 37 CFR 1.136(a) will be calculated from the mailing date of the advisory action. In no event, however, will the statutory period for reply expire later than SIX MONTHS from the mailing date of this final action.
